

The Outsourced Economy: HR for Your Small Business

There's much truth to an old saying we've all heard, "Work Smarter, Not Harder!" While this can apply to most anything, it particularly supports the premise for small businesses to consider the many benefits of outsourcing different tasks or roles within their company. This session will discuss what roles a businesses might want to outsource and the pro's and con's that go along with it.